PASTA

He does not limit himself only to intervening in the urban space and its furnishings, has also moved into galleries and classical artistic disciplines with complete ease. An integral part of his work is frequent depiction of a tube of paste in various "life" situations.

TRON

Expressive writer with a great number of works. He is involved in countless numbers of graphic projects, aside from computer graphics he also works with illustration and airbrush. He transposes his rich imagination to graffiti and visual effects.

MASKER

Painter and illustrator who transposes his figures and painting techniques into street art and street art techniques back into painting. With simplified illustrations he materializes his sarcastic view of civilization and its vices.

EPOS

His work describes sentence "The important things are going on outside." The wit, astuteness and keenness with which he intervenes in our shared public space and with subtle nuances transforms what we consider ordinary into something extraordinary.
